

Auto speedsters full of hooch and spooners who have made automobiling so dangerous that men and women hesitate to venture on the highways are to receive the full force of the law in Maine. Governor Baxter has declared war on this dangerous type of autoists. He has let it be known that a jail sentence will be recommended in every case. A glance at the news columns every day shows the necessity of these dangers automobiling will cease to allure people. Slow down!

ENTHUSIASM GREETES THE TERCENTENARY PLANS

CO-OPERATION CALL ANSWERED BY ALL PRESENT

Parade Committee Turns Out in Force

The spirit of Portsmouth is certainly aroused over the tercentenary celebration, for last evening two of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this city for a civic affair were held at the tercentenary headquarters. Those attending were loud in their praise of the work done during the past week.

Promptly at 7.30 p. m. Mayor Ladd called the executive committee into session. His honor had the schedule of events to be handled all systematized and in one hour business was transacted that means the getting under way of many big projects. All the committees nominated during the past week were accepted, the executive committee acting as a committee on committees, then passing quickly on all names. All citizens on previous committees will be added to new active groups.

Virginia Tanner, pageant director, was present and told of her plans. Enthusiastic applause greeted the news that Kittery had already offered 138 people for the needed 800, and it was predicted that 1000 will be the number that will depict Portsmouth's history at the Pines.

A tentative budget was submitted by the finance committee and approved. This step enables the various committees to proceed with their plans in a definite way.

F. W. Hartford impressed those present with the need of arranging eating and sleeping accommodations for the thousands of visitors. Late last evening big caterers were wired and it is planned to have massive tents with eating facilities in the heart of the city. Local caterers should at once see about getting such concessions. Now is the time; not the week before.

While the executive committee was meeting in one office, over fifty representatives of local organizations were gathering in the main office for an 8 p. m. meeting to form a parade committee and to hear definite views regarding the celebration.

Those present last evening from societies were as follows: Frank J. Donnelly, Portsmouth Lodge of Elks; Mrs. Annette G. Bander, Young Woman's Hebrew Association, 165 State street; William F. Tilton, Osgood Lodge, No. 48, Odd Fellows; Lottie Littlefield, U. O. of I. O. L., Star Lodge No. 2; Helen V. Hoyt, Pythian Sisters; Annie L. Butler, Pythian Sisters, presiding officer, Crystal Temple, No. 36; Gertrude M. Merrifield, M. of L. Crystal Temple Pythian Sisters; James E. Wilbur, Dictator, Portsmouth Lodge, 444, Loyal Order of Moose; Daniel S. O'Brien, Commander American Legion; Earl R. Woodman, Damon Lodge, K. P. Knights of Pythias; Charles H. Kehoe, recording secretary, Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F.; Timothy J. Driscoll, Portsmouth Council, No. 140, Knights of Columbus; J. R. Baird, commander, Emerson Hovey Post, No.

168, V. F. W.; Patrick J. Lonergan, Foresters of America; Horace A. Brown, secretary of Royal Arcanum, No. 86; Mrs. Fred P. Hayes, Graciot club; Mrs. Horace M. Wiggins, president of District Nursing Association; Helen Pickering, Woman's College club; Mrs. W. O. Sides, Mrs. W. M. Sanborn, W. C. T. U.; Commander Charles E. Dodge, Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R.; Max Gelman, Y. M. H. A.; Mary Ryan, Companions of the Forest, and L. A. A. O. H.; Nellie Philbrick, president Spanish War Auxiliary; Carrie A. Adams, president, Florence L. MacGillway, secretary of Storer Relief Corps; L. Mae Spinney, secretary Strawberry Bank Grange; Ida A. Grah, Fannie A. Gardiner, Reb. Lodge 82; Frederick T. Holland, K. of P.

A pageant advisory committee, was named also last evening and will meet with Miss Tanner to assist in getting together the material and personnel of the cast. The financial part of the pageant is to be handled by Miss Tanner, the mayor, manager and finance committee, according to the terms upon which Miss Tanner is undertaking the big task.

Following is the pageant advisory committee: Mrs. L. H. Thayer, Virginia Tanner, Mrs. Mary I. Wood, Mrs. Wallis D. Walker, Mrs. Samuel Cohen, Mrs. Mary Safford Wildes, Mrs. Winslow Pierce, Martha S. Kimball, Mrs. Barrett Wendell, Mrs. William McEvoy, William H. Slayton, Frank A. Belden, Alexander Blubrock, Alec Salden.

Governor Smith's Action in New York in Signing Bill Against State Enforcement Stirs Up Enthusiasm Among Wets

(By Associated Press)

Albany, N. Y., June 2.—The Mullan-Gage State Prohibition Enforcement bill is dead. Governor Smith killed it last night when he affixed his signature to the Legislature's repeal bill adopted four weeks ago.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 2.—Every bootlegger and every "Red" will be encouraged by the action of Governor Smith of New York in signing the bill repealing New York State's prohibition enforcement measure. Governor Finckel declared today in a statement in which he promised that "Whatever any other state has done or may do Pennsylvania will stand by the constitution and the laws of the United States."

Albany, June 1.—Governor Smith this evening signed the legislature's bill wiping the Mullan-Gage state prohibition enforcement act off the statute books.

And he went further. According to the urging of his friends that he strike a note in the campaign for the return of the light wines and beer, he denounced the one half of one per cent alcoholic beverage content provided in the Volstead act as "the work of fanatical dregs" calling on congress to modify it to a "common sense" maximum and then leave each state free to set a figure below that maximum if it so desires.

"I yield to no man in my reverence and respect for the constitution of the United States and I advocate nothing which will infringe upon the provisions of the 18th amendment" the governor said. "It is, nevertheless, a fact that the definition of an intoxicating beverage contained in the Volstead act is not an honest or a common sense one. It is impossible to divorce from the public mind the impression that the definition of an intoxicating beverage as containing not more than one half of one per cent was written by the fanatical dregs in defiance of the general experience of mankind and of actual fact. It seems to me that common sense backed up by some good medical opinion can find a more scientific definition of what constitutes an intoxicating beverage."

"Such a definition should be adopted by Congress as a proper and reasonable amendment of the Volstead act and a maximum alcoholic content should be prescribed by Congress which would limit all states to the traffic in liquors which are in fact, non-intoxicating within the meaning of the 18th amendment. Subject to that limitation each state should thereafter be left free to determine for itself what should constitute an intoxicating beverage. States which then wished to limit traffic to beverages containing not more than one-half of one percent of alcohol would be free to do so and those which desired to extend the traffic to the maximum limitation allowed by federal statute would be equally free to do so."

The governor emphasized, however, that the more repeal of the Mullan-Gage act, accomplished by its signature, did not alter the effectiveness of the Volstead act in its present form as long as it stands unmodified and served notice on all peace officers of the state that they would be expected to "enforce the Volstead act in its strictest letter."

The governor's action on the Mullan-Gage repeal, which has been heralded as the most momentous matter affecting prohibition since the adoption of the Volstead act, was dramatic in its simplicity.

Summoning into his office at 6 o'clock, daylight saving time, the army of newspapermen who had fumed about the state house all day, he smilingly lifted a blotter from his wet signature and said: "Boys, I have just approved the bill."

PREDICT END OF RAILWAY LABOR BOARD

The Pennsylvania Railroad's open defiance to the Railroad Labor Board, coupled with the fact that the board apparently has accepted this defiance in meekness and humility, was regarded in Washington today as constituting the board's death warrant.

The official execution, according to plans now being perfected by its enemies, will take place early in the new Congress, when the entire transportation problem is to be opened up under a barrage of fire directed by Senator Robert M. LaFollette and his supporters.

Bitter comment was heard in labor circles over the manner in which the Labor Board has accepted Samuel Rea's flat refusal to abide by the board's decisions. Labor spokesmen were quick to point out that last summer when the railroad shopmen refused to accept an award lowering their wages, the board publicly branded the shopmen's organizations as "outlaws" and called upon the public to punish them for their "outlawry."

Although the Pennsylvania's most recent contemptuous disregard of the board's orders is now more than a week old, the American Federation of Labor pointed out today that thus far the board has taken no steps to brand officials of the Pennsylvania system as "outlaws", nor has there been any appeal for public support of the board in punishing President Rea or his road.

"Why," ask the labor spokesmen, "are the shopmen outlaws when they disregard the board's decisions, and the Pennsylvania officers merely disobedient when they do it?"

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, branded the board today as "a usurpation of power."

"In the case of the shopmen," said

Gompers, "who had as their only possession their power to work, the board unjustly and unwarrantably ordered a reduction of wages and then cursed the workers and blasted them, as far as it could, by 'outlawing' them in their effort to maintain standards."

Thus far, he observed, there has been no "blasting" of the Pennsylvania by the board.

"The Labor Board," Gompers continued, "is an impossible institution, holding office by virtue of a law that is fundamentally wrong. Rectification by repeal is the only way back to right principles so far as the board is concerned."

The conviction that the Railroad Labor Board has been an unsuccessful experiment is held not only by labor leaders and railroad officials but also by high Administration officials, who take the view that there is little use in continuing a system that commands the support of neither the railroads nor the unions.

President Harding himself has recently confided this opinion to callers, and it is understood the Administration will interpose no objections to a quick and early death of the board when the new Sixty-eighth Congress starts sharpening its knives for railroad surgery in December.

HAVEN SCHOOL ASSO. GIVES A FINE PROGRAM

The Haven School Parent-Teacher Association held its final meeting of the year on Tuesday evening in the school annex.

After a short business meeting a very interesting program was presented.

Judge E. H. Adams gave a very interesting talk on "Scenes from the Life of Lincoln."

Judge Adams, by graphic word pictures, carried his audience from one episode to another in the life of the great emancipator, and was heartily applauded at the close of his discourse.

Mrs. May Morris, reader, gave much enjoyment to all by her well-rendered selections.

Mr. Clarence Schuman, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Littlefield, gave a vocal solo in a very creditable manner and responded to an encore.

Mrs. Harold Shaw, at the piano, and Mr. Roy Tully, drums, added much to the program by their selections and very generously played during the social hour which followed the program.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was the play, "The Dream Lady," given by some of the pupils of the fifth and sixth grades. Too much credit cannot be given these children for the excellent manner in which the play was rendered. The selection of the play, assignment of parts, and almost the entire direction were done by those taking part.

At the close of the program a social hour followed, during which refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

RAILROAD NOTES

There will be an early conference between representatives of the New York Central and the officers of the National Shop Crafts Union. It is reported that the situation between the railroad and the clerks organization is progressing in a satisfactory manner.

Reports from the many railroads in the United States show satisfactory results and there is indication that the net for the month will be about $56,000,000, about $3,000,000 more than the early estimate.

The Union Pacific Railroad Co. is to spend about $43,000,000 to increase the efficiency of the system during the year. The new double tracking of the road will give the road a two-track line from Omaha to Ogden and Salt Lake.

Railroad officials do not feel particularly worried over the forthcoming hearings on the elimination of the Pullman surcharge the Interstate Commerce Commission is scheduled to carry on in Chicago. They deduce that taking of testimony will be primarily for political effect, as the very low margin of earnings shown by the roads from their passenger business leads them to expect that the commission is enhanced by its apparent activity in the public interest, one spokesman for the roads put it.

STATE GUARD MUST GIVE BACK MONEY

Concord, June 1.—Officers of the New Hampshire National Guard who received longevity pay, or pay for length of service, during the encampment last summer, will be called upon to refund all such allowances.

This statement, made today at the office in the State House of the United States disbursing officer, comes as a result of a recent decision of the comptroller general. An earlier decision by the same official covered all allowances for longevity, quarters and subsistence but a revised notification legalizes all these except allowances for longevity. Retroactive legislation that would care for the cases of officers already paid has not yet been enacted and all who are affected by this ruling will soon receive official word to that effect.

About Retailers--The Growing Mass and the Dwindling Class

Goods which are well advertised nationally by the manufacturer are largely sold to the public before they ever reach the retailer.

Goods which are not advertised by the producer must be sold by the retailer.

In the one case, the manufacturer has done a great part of the job; in the other he has left it all for the dealer to do.

For many articles, national advertising creates an actual demand, so that all the dealer need do is to say, "You can buy it here." In other lines, the advertising identifies the product in the possible buyer's mind, arouses his interest in it and establishes his confidence in the maker, upon which the dealer can cash in by his own selling efforts.

But with unadvertised goods, the retailer must start from scratch.

Retailers who favor nationally advertised lines believe in selling what the public wants. They are a growing mass.

Retailers who favor unadvertised lines believe in selling what they want the public to buy. They are a dwindling class.

The ranks of these latter retailers are rapidly growing smaller because most of them are learning that public confidence is the basis of successful selling; that quick turnover is a shorter and surer road to profit than long discounts on slow-moving, dust-gathering goods; that even those customers who appear to swallow their selling talk on unadvertised merchandise have a discouraging way of not coming back for more.

Just the other day a paint and varnish dealer in California wrote to a manufacturer in the Middle West whose name is known through national advertising wherever varnish is used, "We are discontinuing our other lines and hereafter will center our efforts upon (mentioning the name of the maker's product) because the demand is for it."

About the same time a printer in a northern Ohio city was telling his paper jobber that thereafter he intended to standardize on a certain nationally advertised make of bond paper because "everybody knows it, and it is so easy to sell."

And a druggist who carries packaged chocolates stated that he stocked only the nationally known makes, with the exception of one make well known locally, because all he had to do was hand out what the customer asked for and take the money.

Ten years ago—yes, even five—the manufacturer's salesman who went around to the trade and talked about his firm's national advertising was likely to be met with the statement that it would be a lot better if his concern took the money it was putting into advertising and used it to enlarge discounts to the trade.

Today, the fact that he is a real national advertiser is a tremendous asset with the trade to any manufacturer, and his salesman's portfolio of advertising is as important as—very frequently more important than—his sample case.

SUING CITY OF SOMERSWORTH FOR HIS PAY

Deposed Officer Weeden Wants $4450 Through the Court

Dover, N. H., May 31.—A special session of superior court convened here this afternoon. Judge John E. Allen of Dover, presiding, to hear the case of John E. Weeden against the city of Somersworth in which Weeden seeks to recover $4450, alleging that he served for years as a regular policeman and was illegally suspended in September, 1920, from the force by the police commissioners who refused to give him a hearing as provided by statute and maintains that he was at all times subject to call for patrol duty and entitled to $4.50 a day since that date.

Charles L. Estes, former city marshal admitted under cross examination that he had been informed by the police commissioners that Weeden was too quick tempered, following the shooting of Mike Stanton while Weeden was arresting him and who later died from the wounds resulting. In Weeden's trial on a manslaughter charge he was found not guilty.

Weeden said the service which he had rendered the city and for which he demanded his wages "was holding myself in readiness for service." Weeden admitted examining the police commission's books and reading the record of his suspension from the force.

NEW RECORDS ARE EXPECTED FOR IRON ORE SHIPMENTS

(By Associated Press)
Duluth.—Encouraged by reports from the lower lake smelters that iron ore is being melted on a larger scale than had been anticipated, controllers of the Lake Superior mining district and its kindred industries are looking forward to a season of new records.

Everything depends upon the demand for ore from the Lake Erie ports, but with the dock stores diminishing sharply under the heavy consumption at the smelters, district operators are confident of a rushing business.

Experts who last winter estimated the output for the district at between 55,000,000 and 60,000,000 tons have raised their maximum estimates 3,000,000 tons. In case this latter figure is reached there will be a new record for annual shipments from the Lake Superior mines.

With the Lake Superior docks already piling up with cargoes for the freighters, experts assert there is sufficient equipment and man-power available to force the movement past the 64,000,000 ton record mark set in 1916.

New ships have been added to the Great Lakes fleet, increasing the seaboard capacity several million tons.

Operators are reported to be hiring all available laborers for work in the huge open-pit mines which supply most of the ore.

EXPECT 50,000 ELKS AT THE CONVENTION

Atlanta, May 31.—Not less than 50,000 Elks from all parts of America are expected to be present at the annual convention of the grand lodge of the order which meets in Atlanta, July 9 to 16. The gathering will assemble delegations from Maine to Hawaii with present indications all pointing to representation from a large majority of the 1600 lodges in the country.

This is the first time that a convention of the grand lodge of Elks has ever been held in the southeast, and the first time in ten years that the order has come south.

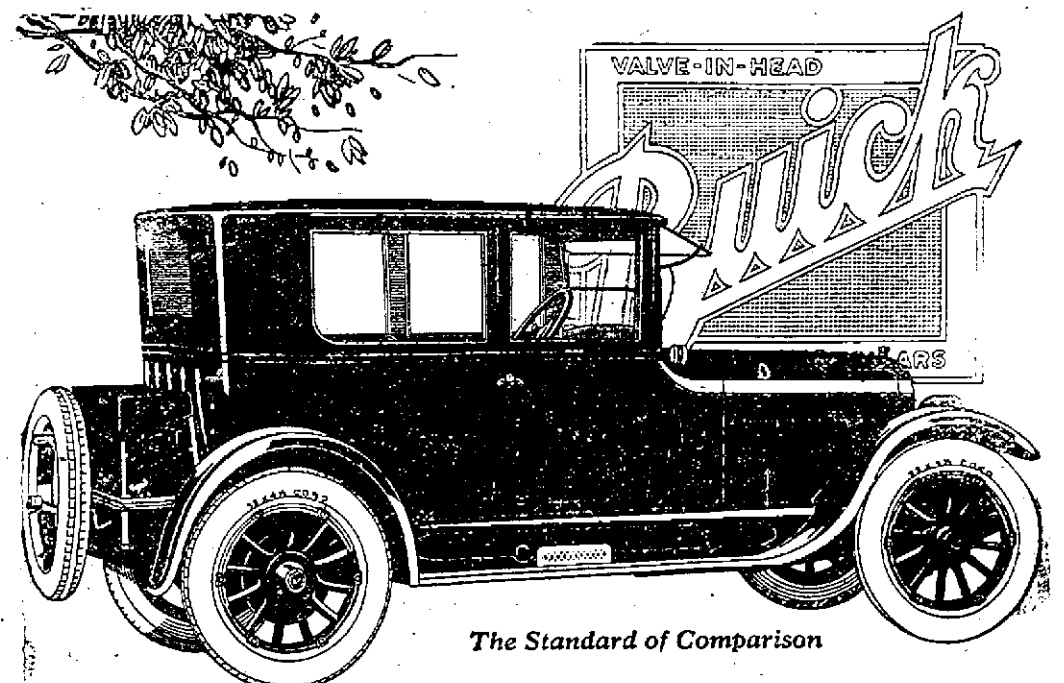

The Atlanta Lodge is completing preparations to entertain a minimum of 75,000 visitors. The hotel capacity will be enlarged by July 1, college dormitories will be operated as temporary hotels, two vast Pullman cities will be set up in the heart of the city and the grounds and buildings of the Southeastern Fair will be converted into a monster tourist camp to accommodate several thousand southern lodges which will make the trip by automobile. Thousands of private homes will also be opened.

A special railroad rate of fare and a half for the round trip, under the identification certificate plan will be in force over practically all lines.

FIRST SETTLER CHARGED 50 CTS. FOR A COFFIN

Thetford, Vt., May 31.—H. W. Hewins of this town, while cleaning out an unused back chamber in his house, discovered an old account book which has in it an account against a certain John Chamberlain, who was the first white man to settle in what is now the town of Thetford. The book was kept by Samuel Jackman and the first entry is dated 1806. There is a charge for "making one coffin, 50 cts." Mason work was charged at one dollar per day and "for working with oxen one day, $1.25."

Cafeteria Manners.
The cafeteria may promote good food at fair prices but it also promotes bad manners. A prominent educator fears that the self-serve lunch counters in the schools and business districts will finally destroy such vestiges of table manners as hurried America has thus far preserved.
"All the emphasis of the cafeteria," said the teacher, "is for selfishness. It's a case of grab what you want without a thought for the other fellow. You don't have to show the slightest consideration for anybody else."
"You sit down alone to eat. You engage in no table amenities. Nobody asks you to pass the salt, and you do not ask anybody to pass the sugar. There is no such thing as cafeteria manners. I despair of the future of good manners in this country if the foreign-born form their ideas of American customs in the cafeterias."
Perhaps the teacher is a little over-anxious, yet there is a good deal in what she says. The self-serve lunch counter does tend to promote selfishness and carelessness. But it need not, if every self-server will only watch his behavior as carefully as he does his tray. It will help, too, if the etiquette of the home table is observed all the more carefully in order partly to offset the influence of the sketchy cafeteria meal.

A Bird Census.
The Department of Agriculture is promoting a bird census to be taken throughout the country during the month of June. Members of bird clubs and bird lovers generally are helping to secure the data.
The migratory birds which are merely passing through any locality are not listed in these records. They are to include only pairs of birds staying throughout the summer and actually nesting. A tract of 40 to 60 acres of land, characteristic of the region generally, is chosen for the survey. The observers count the numbers of nesting pairs of each species in their given area. Totals are turned in to the Department of Agriculture directly or through some local bird association.
Counting the birds may seem like frivolous business for busy Uncle Sam, but the importance of the feathered populace to agriculture is coming to be understood more fully every year, and facts about bird habits become correspondingly more valuable.
The census offers a field of usefulness as well as pleasant diversion for hunters of bird lore, and the census-taker will probably be surprised himself at the number and variety of summer colonists he will find among his feathered neighbors.

Movies for Ford?
Now it is vaguely rumored that Henry Ford has his eye on the movie industry. At the recent meeting of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners' Association the election of new officers became a matter of hot contention. This was because a "Michigan situation" was thought to exist, the basis of which was Henry Ford's alleged participation in the affairs of the convention through his own chosen emissaries.
It has not been difficult to see the connecting link between Henry Ford's manufacture of automobiles and his acquisition of railroad lines, coal mines and water power projects. His anti-Semitic campaign and his unflattering opinion of history were a bit harder to understand.
But the supposed craving for movie power is not quite in either class. It is supposed to be a part of the Ford presidential boom—now confidently expected. With most of the movie screens at his command, the interesting maker of flivvers would have tremendous publicity power.

Noisy Safety.
Drivers of motor vehicles in New York City have been asked to blow their horns for one minute at 3 o'clock every afternoon. This is the time when most of the schools are dismissed. The idea, as explained by the mayor, is "to impress on motorists their responsibilities to the Creator, to themselves and their fellow-men in the conservation of life," and at the same time to warn school children of their danger.
The children will be warned, all right, if all the motorists in the metropolis obey the request. And if watches and clocks vary as much there as they do elsewhere, the grand chorus of toots and blasts may last for half an hour.
If a suggestion from the outside is in order, why not have the children help along the good work by shouting at the top of their voices for a few minutes as they leave school?
Other communities will hardly agree that noise is the best safety insurance. Even if this were true, would it pay to make the streets safer at the expense of nervous systems? One of the greatest needs of today is to get rid of city noises.

If those Chinese bandits really wanted to make money, they would have had a couple of camera men with them and made sure of the movie rights.
Yes, living costs more than it used to; but there is more living.

CHARLESTOWN YARD WORKMEN TO GET MORE PAY

Boston, June 1.—The local wage board of the Charlestown navy yard has submitted its report to Rear Admiral Wiley who has forwarded it to Washington where it will be reviewed by the national wage board before it is approved. Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley endorsed the report and paid a compliment to the members of the board and also to the representatives from the different crafts who worked in harmony to secure the data.
Only one complaint was heard, that being from the janitors who have been scheduled for 49 cents an hour, while the common laborers are recommended for 55 cents. As a rule, the board recommends an increase to nearly every craft. The apprentices are scheduled at twenty cents an hour, an increase of ten cents over the previous recommendation. Machinists and ship-fitters are allowed an increase of three cents an hour, making their pay 76 cents per hour. Carpenters and joiners are recommended for an increase of one cent an hour making their pay ninety-four cents. Sailmakers and rope makers are recommended for an increase of 11 cents an hour. The former will receive, if the report is accepted $1.01 an hour, and the latter 65 cents. Sheet metal workers are recommended for an increase of four cents, bringing their pay to ninety-five cents an hour.

PORTSMOUTH NAMES FOR STATE TABLET, MEMORIAL BRIDGE

Editor Herald:—The committee, of which Hon. Arthur P. Whittemore, of Dover, is chairman, appointed to prepare a list of "residents" of New Hampshire "who were either killed or died in service during the World War," for the tablet to be placed at the New Hampshire entrance to the World War Memorial bridge, have prepared a "tentative list" and have fixed on June 10th as the date for closing the list—as stated in the Portsmouth Herald of May 28, 1923.
The Portsmouth "tentative list" there given includes twenty-one (21) names, viz:—
Chester A. Rock, Frank Boome, John J. Connors, Paul C. Dennett, Harold L. Dutton, Louis J. Fingleton, Amedeo Flori (or Fridri), John F. Flynn, George R. Gerard, Fay E. Hatt, Hugh C. Hill, John Luczko, Michael J. Lynch, Arthur T. Patch, Sydney R. Pickles, Theodore D. Schmidt, Francis A. Scott, Christopher Smart, Frederick S. Towle, John P. White, Randolph I. Zane.
Seventeen of these names appear (with stars) in the final list as prepared for (Portsmouth) Memorial, printed in the Portsmouth Chronicle of November 6, 1919, and with the exception of Louis J. Fingleton, whose death was not then certain, appear in the twenty-four names in the Roll of Honor on the bronze tablet at the Portsmouth Plains, dedicated August 10, 1919.
Four additional names appear on the state tentative list, whose deaths were apparently unknown to the committees preparing the Portsmouth lists just mentioned—or were not thought by them to belong to Portsmouth, viz:—John F. Flynn, George R. Gerard, John Luczko, Randolph I. Zane.
But nine other names appear (with stars) in the Portsmouth list printed November 6, 1919, and one omitted in the state tentative list (four of them buried in Portsmouth) viz:—
Omitted (9)
Floyd Barker, U. S. M. C., killed in action in France.
George Durand, U. S. M. C., killed in action in France.
Frank H. N. Grant, U. S. A., buried at Richland, Michigan.
Edward J. Mack, U. S. A., buried in Calvary cemetery, Portsmouth.
Carl A. Pearson, U. S. A., buried in Harmony Grove cemetery, Portsmouth.
Evelyn Petrie, U. S. A., buried in Harmony Grove cemetery, Portsmouth.
John Tancò, U. S. A., buried in Harmony Grove cemetery, Portsmouth.
Henry Taylor, Canadian army, killed in action in France.
Harold N. Currier, U. S. N., died in hospital at Bigbi, Malta.
Eight of these nine names (all except Harold N. Currier, who has a Memorial tree tablet near by) also appear on the Honor Roll on the Plains Memorial bronze tablet.
A "Memorial Tree tablet" once placed at the Plains to "Frank W. Daley, Canadian Army, Died in Hospital in France," though incorrectly inscribed to "Francis W. Daley, U. S. Navy," has been removed; and as neither name is on the bronze tablet or in the Portsmouth Chronicle list—he was probably not a resident of Portsmouth. He is not on the tentative list.
Will the relatives and friends of those omitted, and the commanders and members of the Frank E. Boome and Evelyn Petrie Posts, American Legion and the Emerson Hovey Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, kindly furnish the Mayor of Portsmouth, without delay, with information establishing the fact that all or at least some of them, were residents of Portsmouth; asking him to endeavor to cause their names to appear on the bridge Memorial tablet?

A DAY AT HAMPTON BEACH

Brightly the summer sun
Smiles o'er the sea and land;
The dancing waters laugh and play,
And ripple o'er the strand.
The distant islands gleam
Calm in the mellow light;
The sunning glints from off the waves
Like starbursts, dazzling bright.
The green encircling capes
Through the purple haze are seen,
And bleak and hoar old "Bear's Head"
Keeps
His ancient seat between.
Aloft on snow white wings,
The wandering sea gulls go,
Below, like phantoms, through the mist
Tail ships sail to and fro.
Then sweetly night comes down
Upon the silent deep;
The waves, like children tired of play,
Are nodding into sleep.
The lighthouse* o'er the sea,
Cheers darkness with its smile,
And the flash fires of "Whale's Back"
Greet
The flame on old "Plum Isle."
The silent twinkling stars
Gem all the azure skies,
And graciously smile on us,
Like tender angel's eyes.
Anon the full-orbed moon,
Fair empress of the night,
Rises in beauty from the sea,
And, o'er the waves, her light.

Traces a pathway, clear and bright
As that by angel's trod,
Or the road o'er which the righteous pass.
Through the golden gates to God.

YELLOW DAY IN NEW ENGLAND

Boston, June 2.—Memories of the famous "Yellow day" of Sept. 6, 1881, were revived today when for several hours after dawn the sky was darkened by a solid cloud mass with a deep yellow tinge. Later the color changed to gray with the sun hanging like a fiery red ball. During the night the moon also appeared in a rich red color. At the Weather Bureau it was said that there was no storm in sight to account for the clouds, and the opinion was expressed that the phenomenon was due to a combination of smoke in the upper atmosphere from the forest fires in Ontario and Minnesota, and lack of wind to carry off the usual city smoke.

CHATS WITH YOUR GAS MAN

If gas came in bags—
If telephone service was sold over the counter—
If electric energy was sold by the yard—
You might hear something like the following:
"Send your boy around with ten pounds of your best gas. Be sure the bags don't leak."
"I'd like about 300 words of snappy conversation. How much is it today?"
"Quote me a price on a bolt of that electricity you have on sale today."
Of course, public utility service is not measured or sold that way. Gas service, for example, is available on tap, regardless of time and weather. It's more than just "goods." It's goods plus SERVICE.

STOCKING THE LOCAL BROOKS WITH TROUT

An allotment of brook trout fry for the local brooks arrived here today from the hatchery in one of their big trucks and was taken care of by local sportsmen who saw that the fry were put in brooks.

In the past two years the brooks all through this section have been well stocked and in a few years some of the old-time fishing may be expected. For some years it has been customary to stock the Peverly brook, or pond, but the water department has posted restrictions forbidding fishing and no more stocking will be done. The posting only serves to keep away fishermen who obey the spirit of the law, while those who have no regards for signs or anything else, still continue to fish, and the signs may just as well be taken down for all the good they do. There is no question but what the pond is a fine place for fish and there were a good many there, for local sportsmen have for years restocked the brooks leading into it and have also stocked the pond with fingerlings, but they have become disgusted with the way that things have gone and have now quit.

Fish and Game Commissioner Mott Bartlett has been kind to the local sportsmen and through his efforts it has been possible to restock the brooks, and if the fish hogs can be kept away for a few years there will be good fishing.

SENATOR MOSES PAYS TRIBUTE TO KITCHIN

Concord, N. H., U. S. Senator Geo. H. Moses said today: "Claude Kitchen was one of the ablest, most sincere, most popular and most influential of the leaders of this party. Under conditions of great difficulty as floor leader of the democrats in congress, both in the majority and in the minority, Kitchen held the diverse elements of his party together with an organized discipline from which others might well profit. He was a commanding figure in a notable body of men and his death while meaning much to the great and prosperous state he so well represented means much more to the house of representatives and to the country at large."

WILL HOLD K. P. ENCAMPMENT HERE IN AUGUST

The state encampment of the U. R. K. of P. will be held in Portsmouth during the tercentenary and it promises to be the greatest turn out in the history of that body. There are companies in every city in the state. The last gathering of this organization was held on Pierce Island about 15 years ago.

WANT TO KNOW WHY RIVER WAS NOT USED IN PAGEANT

One often hears the query that if we are to have a pageant why not utilize the river which has had such a great part in the making of the history of the city and state. Plymouth centered her big program about the water front, but here it is proposed to have everything out of sight. Pierce Island, with its wonderful possibilities seems to have been overlooked.

SAYS HORRIBLES IN LINE WOULD BE A FEATURE OF PARADE

A member of one of the local active organizations has suggested that in the parade in connection with the coming celebration, a division of "Horribles" be part of the program. He says it can be made a feature well worth while.

ROOMS FOR OUR VISITORS

The reaction from the one hundred thousand booklets on Portsmouth sent out at the expense of the Chamber of Commerce is now coming, the office being flooded with letters from all over the country, asking for names of hotels and rooming houses here, many mentioning dates that show they will be here for the tercentenary.

Register your vacant rooms now and be able to pick out occupants for the summer. Many intend to stay here several weeks, and you can easily rent all the rooms you have.

Due to the activity at the chamber on the above, also in the industrial department, extra clerical help has been engaged and Portsmouth is certainly being placed on the map as never before.

THOUGHT BACK WOULD BREAK

Nothing Helped until She Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"When my baby was born," says Mrs. Poslusny, 106 High Street, Bay City, Michigan, "I got up too soon. It made me so tired of living and the weakness came down something awful. I could not get up out of bed mornings on account of my back; I thought I would break in two, and I started to do any work I would have to lie down. I do not believe that any woman ever suffered worse than I did. I spent lots of money, but nothing helped me until I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I felt a whole lot better after the first bottle, and I am still taking it for I am sure it is what has put me on my feet."

If you are suffering from a displacement, irregularities, backache, nervousness, headache or any other form of female weakness you should write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." It will be sent you free upon request. This book contains valuable information.

this is believed to be the first important experiment with dirigibles.

Upon arrival, the dirigible will take on a cargo of insect ammunition and begin operations at once within a radius of about 25 miles of the State House. The dirigible is loaned by the United States government to the New Hampshire Agricultural Experiment Station, Bureau of Entomology. The experiment may take several days or definite results may be achieved in a single day.

Entomologists, foresters and agriculturists are interested in the work, and several representatives of the state will be present to witness the operations from the air on the troublesome insects, which are doing thousands of dollars damage to New Hampshire trees and crops.

Officials at the experiment station informed a representative of The Christian Science Monitor that great importance is attached to the visit of the government airship, and if the work contemplated can be accomplished by this means a tremendous problem will be solved.

HOSPITAL GUILD HELD MEETING

A basket lunch was served on the veranda at noon and coffee was served by Mrs. Muchmore's team. After the sewing was finished the time was devoted to sociability and recreation. The hostess endeavored to make the day very pleasant to her guests and all appreciated her hospitality. The return to this city was late in the afternoon. The July meeting of the Guild will be held with Mrs. Hartford at her summer home at Wallis Sands.

NEWCASTLE

New Castle, June 2.—At last June is with us. All nature is rejoicing and full of promise, it is a time when life is richly worth the living, a time when young and old instinctively obey the injunction issued years ago by Edward Everett Hale "Look upward not downward, look forward not backward, lend a hand."

Mrs. Clinton Yeaton and Miss Frances Kelling of Boston passed Decoration Day with relatives.

The Misses Gertrude and Clara Yeaton of Bradford, Mass., are sojourning at the Yeaton cottage.

Cards have been received announcing the birth of a son on May 22nd to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Dow of Lynn. The promising has been named Howard Poole Dow.

Mrs. Lucia B. Young, Mrs. Annie Smith, Miss Emma F. Cotton, Mrs. Lillian S. Newhall of Lynn motored to the Island on Wednesday and were very festively entertained by a lawn party by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green.

The survival of Memorial sentiment among our people was demonstrated in the warm interest with which they participated in the patriotic public ceremonies in Portsmouth and seemingly Riverside cemetery never was more beautified to keep that precious memory green of those who were with us only a little while ago and are now away. But let us not lose sight of our duty to the living for

Closed eyes can't see the white roses, Cold hands can't hold them you know, Breath that is stilled cannot gather The odors that sweet from them blow, Death with peace beyond dreaming Its children of earth doth endow, Life is the time we can help them, So give them the flowers now.

MORE LIQUOR NOW THAN SINCE THE DRY ACT PASSED

Warehouses Bulge With Huge Stocks of Beer and Imported Whisky

By W. H. Atkins

Washington is stocked with the greatest supply of whiskey and other liquors it has had since the Volstead law dried up the town, according to reliable official information given to the International News Service today. The town is literally flooded with every description of intoxicants, and now held in all sorts of storage places for release to the thirsty at fabulous prices, in expectation by the holders that the Shrine convention, which will double the city's population this week, will create an unprecedented demand.

Prohibition officials, with extra forces of men imported from other districts and by expenditure of large sums of government money to cope with the situation, have been almost powerless to check the inrush of high-power beverages. They have made many confiscations in raids, and in stopping liquor caravans, but the seizures, as one high official of the Treasury put it, is only a "drop in the bucket."

For two months, long before the prohibition enforcement barriers were strengthened, it developed today, bootleggers and others not of that persuasion, have been loading up with liquor gathered from all points of the compass. A great deal of it is said to be "imported goods." Prohibition officials maintain that much of this class of liquor will be found to be adulterated or of synthetic character.

Confidential advices to Treasury officials today disclosed the fact that liquor stocks already piled up here have been brought in camouflaged in freight and express shipments, besides the usual devices adopted by the regular bootleggers in their transport of whiskey over the automobile routes. Prohibition officers, convinced they are up against a real problem in enforcement, are short of men and money and cannot adopt the usual methods of ferreting out the hidden supplies.

Large supplies of liquor are said to be carefully hidden in all kinds of warehouses, in some instances without the knowledge of their owners. Private shipments for purposes of entertainment have been large, officials said. These have been brought in by the purchasers from cities which are classified as wet and where liquors can be easily obtained.

Bootleggers are said to have prepared to replenish their stocks if they are quickly exhausted by extraordinary demand. This will be especially easy for them if Governor Al Smith of New York signs the enforcement law repeal bill, for enormous stocks of liquor are held in readiness for shipment across the Canadian border and through New York and New Jersey waters if that happens.—Washington Times.

LOCAL MEN AT EXETER SHOOT

The Memorial Day shoot at the Exeter Sportsman's Club brought out sixteen shooters, and considering that it was the first regular shoot of the season, the scores were excellent. Portsmouth was represented by Henry Tilton and Frank Belden. The prizes were won by Crosbie, first, who shot from scratch; Jacobs, who had a handicap of six, second, and third and fourth were a tie between Belden, scratch, and Sleeper, who had a handicap of eight. On the shoot-off both broke eighteen, so Sleeper won with his handicap. The best feature of the meet was the getting together again of those who love guns and shooting. Most of them have no other recreation; they do not play golf or tennis, and therefore shooting is doubly dear to them. Some few, however, notably Jacobs and Wardwell, gave up an afternoon of golf to help with the game of shooting. Incidentally, Dr. Jacobs had a very fine score the last round; if he had had more practice, he would lead at the trip.

The scores, with handicap:

Crosbie	0-44
Jacobs	6-43
Belden	0-42
Sleeper	8-42
Wardwell	12-40
Taylor	4-38
I. Brown	12-38
Shute	0-38
Weeks	12-36
Junkins	0-34
Kusiak	4-34
Folsom	0-32
Tilton	0-29
Peavey	0-23

Also, Mr. Healey broke 13 of 25, and E. Nudd broke 16 of 25.

CAN'T RUN A CAR AND LOVE A FAIRY

Hammon, N. J., June 1—"It cannot be done. A man cannot run an automobile and pet a woman at the same time. There are plenty of places to pet one's sweetheart besides in automobiles."

So stated Justice of the Peace Mischlich of Egg Harbor City when Wm. Sciovene of Atlantic City was brought before him by Trooper Thompson, of the state police who testified that he had ordered Sciovene to use both his hands on the wheel after he had seen him driving with one hand on the wheel and the other arm around a young woman in his car.

A few minutes later Thompson saw a car doing a snake dance on the White Horse Pike and found that the driver was Sciovene. Justice Mischlich fined Sciovene $10 and costs.

JUDGE PRAISES BOY BUT GIVES HIM 170 DAYS IN JAILHOUSE

Chalk up 170 days and a compliment for Robert Jones, colored. He received both from Judge Hardison.

Jones was arraigned at Washington police court for stealing a bicycle. While before the bar he was identified as the man who had escaped from Occoquan by Policeman Raymond Carroll of the Fourth precinct.

"Did you escape from Occoquan?" the court asked.

"Sure of that," the court insisted. "Yassa: I only jumped off the boat that was taken me dere," replied the colored man coolly, when he found it useless to evade the truth.

"You've got a legal mind, boy" said Judge Hardison as he remanded him to jail for stealing the wheel and the eighty days that he did not serve before.

WILL TRY TO CUT DOWN THE BOOTLEGGING

At President Harding's suggestion, prohibition and district officials conferred today and snapped out a campaign designed to strike at the very heart of the Washington bootlegging industry.

A special force of prohibition agents, probably numbering 50 or more, and a like number of police will be assigned to the job of cleaning up Washington as far as the illegal sale of liquors is concerned, it is said.

While plans for the bootleg drive were not revealed after the conference it is known that a definite program was mapped out providing for the stationing of police and enforcement agents in every section of the city to watch for violations of the liquor laws.

Rumors that Washington is being deluged with liquor, while rumors have come to the attention of President Harding, will be traced and an effort made to learn that source. All roads and water routes leading to Washington will be guarded 24 hours a day in an effort to prevent the smuggling of liquor into the city.

Headquarters detectives, it was said may be enlisted in the campaign being made against the bootlegger.

The conference today held in Commissioner Oyster's office, was attended by Commissioners Oyster, Rudolph and Benson; Major Daniel Sullivan, superintendent of police; Inspector Clifford L. Grant, chief of detectives; Roy Haynes, commissioner of prohibition; E. C. Yellowly, chief of general prohibition agents, and Edgar N. Read, director of prohibition enforcement in the district.

FIND $10,000 LIQUOR HIDDEN IN POTATOES

Pittsburgh—A freight car, supposed to contain "potatoes" was found to be loaded with whisky when Federal prohibition agents opened it here. The liquor, valued at $10,000 was consigned to a Penn. avenue produce house. It was confiscated but not until several barrels had been removed in a truck by unidentified men.

The whisky was hidden in barrels with a top covering of potatoes.

DETROIT RENTS DRIVE PEOPLE TO TENT LIFE

Auto Industry Has Lured so Many Workmen to City Congestion is Now Menacing

Detroit—High rents which steadily are soaring to heights beyond the average workman's pocketbook, and the ban which landlords are placing on children, are forcing hundreds of Detroit families from the congested districts of the city out into tent colonies in the suburbs.

Recent booming of the automobile industry has lured thousands of persons to the city where they have been compelled to seek almost any kind of shelter.

Not in years has there been such a scarcity of houses for rent here. Thousands of new homes have been erected this spring, but they have been sold as rapidly as completed and now with the high price of materials builders are curtailing new construction work and those houses which are under way are being sold before being completed.

Families with children have had an especially hard time. Landlords have become haughty and in many apartments the ban has been placed on childish noises and juvenile marring of furniture and woodwork. Families from the smaller cities find it unendurable to herd together in two or three rooms in congested sections where their children scarcely get a chance to play outdoors, and so they are moving out.

Now they are making small down payments on vacant lots and erecting tents for summer, hoping to be able to build a small home by fall.

Here is what one worker employed in the Ford River Rouge plant has done and it is typical of hundreds of others. He and his wife and three little children came from Canada in March, and took two rooms in a house where there were twelve other children. They paid $12.50 for these two rooms.

"We broke our last Canadian $20 bill to buy this tent," the man said. "It cost $32.50 and we are buying it on the installment plan. We bought two lots and are paying $20 a month on them. But we are happy and the children are losing their pallor and gaining in health."

"Since we moved out here we heard that the rent had been raised on our old rooms to $18 a week."

As property even many miles out along the regular car lines has risen in value so high that a big down payment must be made to obtain it, those in meager circumstances have been compelled to locate in more isolated sections, and bus lines are being established to transport the men to and from their work.

FAVORS CLOSING OF PORTS
Ottawa, June 1—The question of withdrawing from American fishing vessels the privilege of using Canadian ports is still under consideration but a decision will be announced shortly. Ernest Lapointe, minister of marine, has informed the house of commons. Such use of ports had been extended reciprocity by both the U. S. and Canada during the war, but later the American ports were closed to the disadvantage of Canadian fishermen. Canadian ports continue to be open free of duty, while Canadian fishermen are compelled to pay heavy duties in American ports.

"My opinion is that if we cannot get similar privileges from the U. S. it is only fair and just that we should close our ports to them," the minister concluded.

SAYS WEEDEN WAS NOT REGULAR POLICE OFFICER

Former Commissioner Says Feeling Against Weedén Caused His Discharge

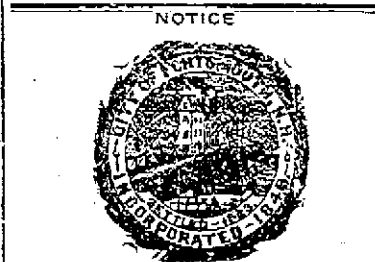

The case of John E. Weedén, a former policeman at Somersworth against that city seeking to recover $4450 which he alleges the city owes him because he was never given a hearing before dismissal from the force in September, 1920 and is entitled to pay, was resumed in superior court in Dover on Friday.
Fortunate J. Gagne, former police commissioner, testified that he issued a special officer's commission to Weedén, that he was never appointed as a regular officer and therefore not entitled to a hearing before suspension. In 1920 after Weedén shot and killed Mike Stanton while attempting to arrest him, Mr. Gagne testified the feeling in Somersworth became so bitter against Weedén that many persons threatened to shoot him if he appeared on the streets in uniform, which condition prompted the commissioner's to remove him.
Judge John E. Allen ordered each side to submit arguments in writing and promised to give his decision later in the month.

Chaffee, who has had valuable experience in Philadelphia and Boston church choirs, will begin her work as soprano in the quartette.

At the church membership conference at the minister's house, 25 Mark St., at 7:30 p. m. lessons IV and V from "A Manual for the Confirmation Class" will be discussed. "Our Thought of God and Living With God." All interested are cordially invited.

The high school is battling with the Dover high this afternoon at the playgrounds and the locals expect to make up for their defeat in Dover some weeks ago.

HOLDING ANNUAL CONVENTION AT THE ROCKINGHAM

Dr. Howard Greets New England Food and Drug Men

The twelfth annual convention of the New England Food and Drug Officials was held at Hotel Rockingham yesterday and today with about twenty-five delegates in attendance, representing all the New England states and from headquarters at Washington, including food commissioners and chemists.

The first day's session opened on Friday afternoon at the Rockingham with greetings by Dr. Charles D. Howard of the New Hampshire Board of Health and who spoke as follows:

"Members of the Association and friends:

"I assume that no formal address of welcome is called for or expected. In fact it is not my recollection that that sort of thing is usually a part of our program.

"However, this is the first time that the State of New Hampshire has been honored by your selection, and I am hoping you will find us at least an improvement over Boston, with its daylight saving and other distracting features.

"Portsmouth is rather remarkable for a number of things. The home of Thomas Bailey Aldrich, of Benjamin P. Shillaber, and of General Fitz Porter, this city also claims to have been, for some ten years, one of the numerous residing places of the Immortal Daniel—of our Immortal Daniel. For a time also Admiral Cervera, of Spanish war fame, found this a pleasant, albeit involuntary, place of residence.

"It is also this city that the Russians and Japanese, with rare discrimination saw fit to select from the many others equally available and convenient as the place in which to sign their peace treaty.

"Formerly Portsmouth was the home of three large breweries, but these have gone down before the march of civilization. As consolation to our visiting friends, I take pleasure however in being able to state that its city water supply is one of the best and purest in New England.

"Portsmouth is the 'Jumping-Off Place' into the 'Wilds of Maine,' and the Granite State is the mother of all of Massachusetts most distinguished men. On behalf of its citizens, I cordially welcome you to Portsmouth and to New Hampshire."

A discussion followed on new legislation pertaining to food and drug matters, led by Charles E. Hopkins, chief food inspector of Providence, R. I. Also a paper on animal feeding with reference to vitamins and discussion of bulletin 242, Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station by B. N. Bailey, state chemist, Experiment Station, New Haven, Conn. A discussion followed. Misbranded canned goods were then discussed.

The following was the program for today:

Jamaica Ginger, Pure and Adulterated by Hermann C. Lythgoe, Chief, Division of Foods and Drugs, State Health Department, Boston, Mass.

A New System of Food Factory Inspection. By A. M. G. Soule, Chief, Division of Inspection, Department of Agriculture, Augusta, Me.

Examination of Beverages, Foreign and Domestic. By Dr. Charles D. Howard, New Hampshire Board of Health.

Outline of Projects for 1923.

By George H. Adams, Chief of United States Food and Drug Station, Boston, Mass.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Functions of State in the Control of Market Milk. By Thomas Holt, Dairy and Food Commissioner, Hartford, Conn.

Information Available from Office of Cooperation. By W. S. Frisbie, Chemist in Charge, Office of Cooperation, Washington.

General Discussion.

Round Table Talk.

The convention closed with a business session. A number of the visiting delegates took the opportunity to visit some of the historic places in this city and vicinity while here.

YARD WAGE SCALE MAY GO BACK TO OLD BASIS RATES

Rear Admiral J. K. Robison, U. S. N. chief of the bureau of engineering and senior member of the navy department wage board, was at the navy yard on Friday in conference with the commandant regarding the new wage schedule.

Later the local trade committees were called together and Admiral Robison gave them a talk on what his ideas on the matter of wages are. He intimated that his recommendation would be to go back to the old basis rates with the differentials. He noted that the building trades seemed to dominate the wage scales, but he believed that this would soon pass over and that the essential trades to the ship yards like those of the iron workers of the various branches and trades that have the most to do with building ships and repairing ships would be encouraged rather than the others which have really a small part in the life of the naval stations.

The report of the local wage board, has been made and approved by the commandant and forwarded to Washington. It will carry an increase in practically all of the trades and will be slightly higher in many of the trades over that at the Charlestown navy yard.

Admiral Robinson has just returned from a tour of the yards on the Pacific coast and has practically finished all of the yards on the Atlantic coast.

MECHANIC FIRE SOCIETY DINNER

The quarterly dinner of the Mechanic Fire Society was held on Friday evening at the Hotel Wentworth. Mr. Webster was for a great many years a member of this society and took great pleasure in its dinners.

"DISABILITY CLAUSE"

THERE is a chance that you may be totally disabled for life by illness or accident.

It is bad enough to be helpless and unable to work—but it is even worse to be a perpetual burden on your family.

You never need fear the latter if you have a Travelers Guaranteed Low-Cost Life Insurance Policy with a No. 1 Disability Clause.

Not only will this clause provide for the payment of your premium in case of permanent and total disability, but it will also pay you an income of $10 a month for each $1,000 of insurance you carry, as long as you suffer that disability.
